OUR PURPOSE

A Statement of Clinical Objective

My purpose in sharing this statement of clinical objective is to clearly define my approach to Chiropractic, to healing, and to those I serve in this office.

The following concepts are central to the way in which I practice Chiropractic. I am pleased to share these ideas with you so that we can be in alignment with our purpose from the very beginning.

- There is an intelligence within each individual, which not only keeps that person alive, but also animates, coordinates, repairs, renews, empowers and heals.
- The nervous system is a main coordinating system and distribution center for this innate intelligence.
- Alteration in the shape, position, tone or tension of the nervous system (especially at the spine), will block, inhibit or redirect the expression of this intelligence.
- Subluxations of the spine are an interference to the proper functioning of the nervous system and its ability to send, receive and coordinate life force and intelligence.
- Proper coordination, repair, movement, inspiration, empowerment, healing, cannot be expressed when this life power and intelligence is blocked or redirected.
- The sole purpose of the Chiropractic Adjustment given in this office is to correct vertebral subluxations, allowing greater communication of this life power and coordinating intelligence thus promoting a healthier spine, nervous system and enhanced health and quality of life.
- Everyone, in spite of specific symptoms or ailments, can benefit from a more flexible, elastic, and subluxation-free spine and nervous system.
- Symptoms are not necessarily a sign of illness. They can occur to alert the individual of the need for change.
- Specific location of symptoms does not correlate to specific subluxations needing to be adjusted. Severity of symptoms does not correlate to severity of subluxations.
- An individual may have symptoms and not need an adjustment on a particular visit. An individual may have no symptoms and may require extensive adjustments on a particular visit.

- I do not treat specific symptoms, conditions or ailments, other than vertebral subluxations. I do not imply that any particular adjustment or series of adjustments will have a direct effect on any symptom or condition a person may be presenting.
- I do not discourage seeking of medical attention for naming or treating symptoms or ailments. In fact, I encourage any individual having concerns about symptoms or ailments to consult with his or her physician at any time during chiropractic care.
- Your innate intelligence, through the functioning of the nervous system, is the true agent of healing, empowerment, coordination, inspiration, movement and joy. Healing is an inside job, coordinated by the same power which develops and renews your body.
- By their very intent, various treatments may interfere with the functioning of the nervous system and are often incompatible with maximizing the benefits of chiropractic adjustments. This may include drugs such as pain relievers, muscle relaxants, anti-inflammatory compounds and mood altering medications.
- Medication levels for a non-flexible body-mind experiencing sickness are not necessarily the same for a body becoming well.
- I will not venture into the practice of medicine by advising about the need for reduction of medications. I suggest you speak with your physician to determine the objective and goal to be obtained by receiving a particular medical treatment. Determine if this is consistent with your desire for wellness at this point in time. Your physician may guide you in changing any medication or treatments that you are presently utilizing to accommodate for your changing body-mind.
- Consistent with the above concepts, I locate and adjust vertebral subluxations using the techniques I believe to be the most honoring and effective. I strive to help each individual member of my practice to a greater level of health and improved quality of life.

Sincerely,

Dr. Jay
